

VAUGHAN'S TREASURE

Before Lizzy Vaughan was born, her father, a famous sailing ship Captain, visited many places. In the Darien Jungle near Panama, a wild monkey bit him in the hand. In Costa Rica he saw millions of bananas growing on trees. In Mexico he crawled through narrow underground tunnels at mysterious temples where Aztec priests sacrificed young maidens to the gods of the sun. In the deep channels of the Bahamas Islands, he swam with sharks and petted wild dolphins. At Tierra del Fuego, he saw icebergs. During his voyages he collected many curious things and lots of strange coins and money, and when he returned from his travels, he hid some of these things, especially money, in two metal cans behind his house. The cans are still there, today, and if you can find them, you will discover great rewards.

How to Find the Treasure

There are two trails that lead to the treasure. Each trail has four clues, and when you have all four in hand, you can solve the puzzle of the exact location of the treasure. To be successful, you must solve riddles, measure distances, and be very observant of your surroundings. Shovels are in the tool shed if you need them, but do not dig up the bones of Boris, who died in 1989, and is buried in the dirt, rest in peace. ☠ ⚒ ✕

To begin, solve the first puzzle and follow the map and instructions carefully. The person who discovers each clue can turn in the coin for a special reward.
